New Publications.
"Madame Pompadour's Garter" is the name of a new, thrilling and historical romance of the reign of Louis the Fifteenth, by Gabrielle De St. Andre, now in press, and to be published in a few days by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. It is a romance of the days of Madame Pompadour, is a story of love, intrigue and facts, and will no doubt prove to be one of the most popular and successful novels that has appeared in print for years, for its pages will be courted and perused by all that are fond of a thoroughly good novel for its great and absorbing interest. It will be issued in uniform style and price with "Theo," "Kathleen," "Gabrielle," and "Miss Crespien," published by the same firm.

"Sensible Etiquette" of society, containing explanations of customs, manners, morals and home culture. Just published by Coates & Porter, of Philadelphia. For sale by Robert Clarke & Co. and all book-sellers.

Wrestling.
Utica, N. Y., June 26.—The Bauer-Heyger Greco-Roman wrestling match here last night was witnessed by a small audience. Heyger's bullet head, short, full neck and corpulency were the only obstructions to Bauer's scientific play. Bauer won the first fall in eighteen minutes and the second fall and the match in seven minutes.

Rowing.

Races.
Pittsburgh, Pa., June 26.—First race, sweepstakes, two mile heats for all ages, won by E. Gillespie's Kilburn in two straight heats.

Second race, three-quarter-mile dash, for two-year-old colts and fillies, was a walk over for J. W. Edwards' Jessie Donaldson.

Third race, mile heats, three in five, for all ages, was won by Beady, J. Lambert's Ada Lambert, in three straight heats.

New York Harbor Police.—The twenty-fourth precinct is composed of the harbor police, and its station is on board the steamer Seneca, which lies at the foot of Third street, East River, when not in active duty. The men live on board of her, and are sent out, three at a time, in row boats—one on the East and one on the North River. They are gone for six hours, rowing in and out of the slips, up with the flow of the tide and down with the ebbing, peering underneath the cavernous wharves, circling around the massive hulls of the ships, listening for the sound of muffled oars.

It is dangerous, monotonous, and in temperate winter nights, very arduous. But it is in the main thankless, for the river thieves, who are the most desperate and most cunning of their fraternity, have every advantage over the police, so that it is rare that the harbor police, unassisted, capture them—when they do the thief is likely to have a bullet in him—and still more rare, that sufficient technical proof exists to secure conviction in court.

Still this squad is a vast protection to the rich of the waterfront. If they could have as patrol-boats, silent, swift steam launches, with a larger vessel, as now, to carry them in force to suppress a mutiny, or for other exigency, their usefulness would be increased tenfold, and the disparity between them and the thieves greatly obviated.—[Scribner for July.

A COLD-BLOODED FURY.—The Meridian (Miss.) Mercury says that about a year ago a young man named James Knox began to be affected with symptoms as if freezing, and though the physicians tried every way to warm him up they were unable to do so. The sensation of extreme cold which he experienced grew worse and worse, until, even in the hottest weather of summer, he would wrap himself in heavy blankets and sit before blazing fires in a vain effort to keep himself warm. The other day, when returning home from a doctor's office, he complained of being colder than ever, lay down in the bottom of the wagon and died before he reached his house, apparently freezing to death, though the thermometer indicated ninety degrees in the shade.

"TAKE THAT!"—This is not slang; not a bit of it. It is but the translation of an inscription on an ancient Egyptian ball, a leaden one, used as a kind of bullet and thrown from a sling. Sometimes the name of the slinger was put on the ball—so that the wounded could tell whom to thank, perhaps. The phrase "Take that!" has not entirely gone out of fashion, and yet the world ought to be old enough to know better, by this time.—[St. Nicholas for July.

THE BOLD PIRATE.

CAPTURE OF PARR AT BOSTON.

National Associated Press to the Star.
Boston, June 26.—United States officers have arrested Henry A. Parr, who arrived here on a boat from St. Johns, on a warrant for murder, committed during the cutting out of the steamer Chesapeake, which left New York on December 5th, 1863, for Portland, Me., with a cargo of cotton valued at $40,000, and sugar worth $10,000, owned by parties in Quebec. Her passengers, numbering seventeen, took possession of the steamer in the name of the Confederate States of America, shooting the Second Engineer, whose body they threw overboard; putting the Captain in irons and wounding the First Engineer, whom they compelled to assume command of the vessel with orders to make for Halifax.

A number of United States steamers were sent in pursuit of the pirates, who, when last seen, were steering for that Province. The steamer Ella Anna, lying at this port, proceeded to St. John, where it was ascertained that the Chesapeake had landed the rightful captain and crew, excepting the first engineer, whom they retained to work the vessel on Partridge Island. At this place Captain Locke, alias Parker, took command, with the notorious Henry Braine as first officer, and Parr, one of Morgan's men, as second.

The Ella Anna captured the Chesapeake in Sable Harbor, where she was waiting the return of Braine and Locke from Halifax, whither they had gone to obtain engineers and a crew for the Chesapeake. Apprised of the arrival of the cruiser they succeeded in escaping.

The vessel was taken into Halifax and the captives delivered to the authorities. The prisoners were rescued by citizens and afterwards caught and tried, but escaped punishment. The Admiralty Court returned the vessel to its owners. The pirates, who succeeded in separating themselves over the world, and all traces of them were lost until a short time ago, when the Government obtained possession of information that Parr, who, it is alleged, took a prominent part, was living in the Province and would be in Boston in a short time. On the arrival of the steamer an officer who was in waiting arrested Parr. The case had been continued July 5th. It is expected to come up on habeas corpus to-day and have the amount of bail fixed upon, as the case is out of the jurisdiction of any but the Circuit or District Court to take bail.

A Gang of Counterfeiters.
National Associated Press to the Star.

Reading, Pa., June 26.—A gang of counterfeiters who have been operating in Eastern Pennsylvania for a long time, have just been broken up. A number of backwoods farmers have been visited, and the operations probably cost $10,000 in Berks, Lehigh and Lancaster counties. A man giving the name of J. P. Potter was taken to jail on the charge of being a dealer in worthless greenbacks. Two others, Shaffer and Eyrich, were arrested on the same charge, and recent developments threaten the arrest of a number of persons charged with dealing in counterfeit five-dollar notes on the bank of Hanover. Geo. L. Kersner, a clerk in the Prothonotary's office, in this city, has been arrested, charged as being a member of a pool that bought large amounts and assisted in placing them in circulation, officials state that about twenty people, many of whom have heretofore enjoyed excellent reputations, are more or less concerned and will be arrested.

Babbitt, the soap man, has been fooled out of about $20,000 by a woman who represented that she knew where the bombs were which Beckwith had stolen from him.

John Tutsworth, of Kickapoo Town, Ill., was fatally injured by being carried over an embankment with his horse and wagon.

A Few Things that We Know.
We know that a disordered stomach or liver produces more suffering than any other cause. We know that very few physicians are successful in their treatment of these disorders. We know that Dr. Cassa's Radical Cure will without the shadow of a doubt, almost immediately relieve and permanently cure all of these distressing symptoms.

We know of thousands who are willing to testify that what we say is true to the letter. We know that if you give it a fair trial, you will let us add your name to the "cloud of witnesses." Will you give it a trial, and do it now? Trial size only 25c. Sold by John Keeshan, Sixth and Walnut streets; J. D. Wells, Fourth street and Central avenue; H. P. Reina, Fifth and Broadway.
